About me & my target

My name is Daniel, I'm a young bilingual gentleman from Cartagena, I graduated from Colombo English school a few years ago in 2013, and I've already worked with companies using my English knowledge. My listening, speaking and writing skills are all fluent, in top of that since I finished high school I always have been practicing every day since then. My target is to keep working with companies that let me keep exploiting all my potential and knowledge in this language, I know I can be a fundamental peace in any company I could eventually work with.
